Declaration by the Head, department of Biotechnology, about the ICT facilities available at the Department of Biotechnology

To whomever it may have concern this certified by me that the department of biotechnology has equipied with one unit of KYAN-(an instrument designed developed and patented jointly by IIT Mumbai and IL&Fs). This instrument is combination of LCD projector cum smart board. It has capability to convert any plane surface into smart board.

Also the department is in possession of two LCD projectors. In combination with any laptop, or desktop (with proper operating system), class room can be converted into ICT enabled classroom
