◆ Training programme for the college programme officers

Department organized one day training programme for the college programme officers on 7/8/2013. This programme was inaugurated by prof. Dr. Sudhir Gavane, Head, Dept. of Mass Communication and Journalism. Director of the department Dr. Kishan Dhabe presided over the function.

Prof. Dr. Sudhir Gavane, Head, Dept. of Mass Communication and Journalism delivering inaugural address.

In the beginning Dr. S.A. Moon welcomed to Dr. Sudhir Gavane and Dr. Mulak Welcomed to Dr. Kishan Dhabe, Dr. Sudhir Gavane delivered inaugural address. He said that this department would get an adequate financial assistance through the 12th five year plan. Extension activities are keeping the feathers in the coronet of the colleges. Teachers must be involved in the extension activities. Colleges have to motivate to the students for admitting to the higher education.

12th education plan is financially more than the 11th five year plan. UGC provides the various types of grants to the colleges but colleges are not able to utilize the grants properly. He also explained the importance of 'National Skill Mission,' He told that according to this mission 50 crore youths have to give us the training of varied types of skills. So teachers must be trained at first. Unemployed and skillless youths are major problem before the world. So we have to prepare the employable youths. Illiterate person earns with his natural physical strength but educated and unemployed youths can't earn anything in the life due to the absence of skills.

83% youths are away from the flow of higher education. 74 districts have ruled by the naxalities. Competences in the students must be developed through the extension education. Each and every student must be acquired the generic skill. Activeness is more important than the talent.

Dr. Kishan Dhabe delivered the presidential address. He said that 60 colleges have involved in the extension activities.

This programme was anchored by Dr. Anand Wagh and Dr. S.S. Bainade proposed vote of thanks. Dr. S.A. Moon, Dr. S.S. Binade and Dr. Anand Wagh guided to the participants for implementing the extension activities at college and social level.
