Subsequent to this course co-ordinator Dr. Sanjay Moon delivered an introductory speech. He said that colleges and Universities must be studied the rural social problems. We are implementing the extension activities through the 60 University affiliated colleges.

Hon'ble vice-chancellor delivering inaugural speech.

Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor prof. B.A. Chopade delivered an inaugural speech. He said that the head of the department prof. Dhabe and his colleagues are working sincerely and constantly in the department. He also appreciated that he visited so many universities but this department is ideal. This department arranged number of programs & the report of the department is very excellent. This department is a good example of excellence and commitment. This department organized the activities for the women, children, deprived people and students in the university and colleges.

He also mentioned that as per the survey of 'India Today' our university won the 18th rank at all India level. It is our collective victory. He also suggested to the department to prepare the last ten years documentation. He further said that the students in the Europe use to work in the farm and that work has included in their syllabus. We must include such type of work in our syllabus.

All the good things must be included in the activities of the department of Lifelong Learning and Extension. This department has a lions share while obtaining the 'A' grade for the university. Director of the department prof. Kishan Dhabe delivered the presidential address. He said that there must be extension unit in each and every college. Every year ten colleges might be increased. Department gives the 'Best Extension Award' every year for one college. He mentioned that from this year department increased grant of Rs. 20,000/- from Rs. 15,000/-.

Colleges must implement the skill development programmes in the college and society, principal is a backbone of college so he should be aware about the extension activities.

In the same function following principals expressed their views about the extension activities.

Prin. Dr. Thore, Vinayakrao Patil college, Vaijapur said that the selection of the 60 colleges by the department is a very good thing. Budget provision is not only essential for the implementation of extension activities but will power is also essential. special programme officer is essential to develop this unit at college level. We must be worked for the society. Colleges also need to prepare the report like the department. In this way the role of the principal is very important. He must be creative and positive.
