Dear Sir,

We're excited to share that we are planning a meet for "Daan Utsav" on July 16th 2017.

Daan Utsav (earlier called the Joy of Giving Week) is India's public festival of giving celebrated every year from Oct 2-8 across the country. It is a public festival owned by everyone and driven entirely by a group of volunteers like you. No one owns or controls it. As of 2016, over 100+ cities and towns, several districts and villages all over India came forward and celebrated giving in their own way. This included auto drivers and maids donating food and grains, CEOs walking the ramp, being shadowed or singing to raise money, students across schools and colleges volunteering and giving, collection drives by many corporate; and several Govt depts. like the health, education, police and their associated bodies that have also participated. More than 50 lac Indians are estimated to be celebrating the festival, but our goal is to get to 50crore Indians.

The meet will brainstorm on ideas how to get the entire city of Aurangabad (from schools, colleges, corporate, NGOs, community groups, government and other organizations) to celebrate the festival in a big way. The event will give us all a great opportunity to learn from each other, share experiences and see how we can take back interesting ideas. We request you to join us.
