Dear Prof B.A.Chopade,

Greetings from QS!

Trust you are doing well.

I glad to provide you with the following updates from QS:

1. Launch of QS BRICS University Rankings 2018
2. Data Collection for 2019 Rankings Cycle

Launch of QS BRICS University Rankings 2018

QS University Rankings: BRICS 2018 was released in New Delhi on 22 November at India Habitat Centre, at the hands of Prof Dr V S Chauhan, Chairman, UGC. There were over 130 vice chancellors, directors and senior representatives of universities from India, as well as select representatives from the corporate and governmental agencies in attendance.

You can read the full report here.

Here is a quick snapshot of India's performance:

The response in India has been overwhelming and I am humbled by the feedback from academics like you that have encouraged QS to do more to highlight excellence in India, and help build capacity. I look forward to continued engagement over the coming months.

Data Collection for 2019 Rankings Cycle

QS has begun the data collection exercise for our 2019 rankings cycle. Invitations have already been sent out to Primary Research Contacts (PRC's) at respective universities. You may wish to note the following deadlines:

- Academic & Employer Peer files: 2 February 2018
- Data for QS World Rankings: 2 February 2018
- Data for Graduate Employability Rankings: 29 March 2018
- Data for Asian & BRICS Rankings: 12th July 2018

Kindly plan your activities accordingly.

If you have not received the invitation or are a new institution seeking to submit data for consideration in our rankings, please contact me immediately so that I can put you in touch with the relevant team members from QS Intelligence Unit.

I hope these updates have been helpful to you.

Regards,

Ashwin Fernandes | Regional Director – Middle East, North Africa & India
