Department of Lifelong Learning and Extension

Both of them have selected the following one college among the 60 colleges.
Yashwantrao Chavan college, Ambajogai, Dist Beed

Orientation programme for college students volunteers and excellent unit

Award distribution

department organized one day orientation programme for the college students and 'Excellent Unit Award' was awarded to the principal and programme officers of Yeshwantrao Chavan college, Ambajogai, Dist Beed. Principal Dr. Vanmala Gundre and prof. Anant Markale awarded the Rs. 5000/- and Rs 3000/- and certificate for their excellent work by the auspicious hands of Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor prof. B.A. Chopade.

This programme was inaugurated by Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor prof. B.A. Chopade he said that the role of volunteers is appreciable. It is a great matter to help others. He mentioned his own experiences of serving the patients in the hospital of karad in his student's life. He learned a lot from such type of service. You should not be the volunteers for obtaining the certificates. We must work for others.

Prin. Gundre Madam expressed her thoughts. She said that she started her extension unit in her college from last five years. Certificate courses were also run by the college. She also mentioned that she got the inspiration after getting this Excellent Extension Unit Award'.

Subsequent to this prof. Anant Markale, programme officer delivered the speech. He said that he is working as a programme officer form the academic year 2010-2011. He further mentioned that his working was like a part of training. He also inspired after taking the award.

After this prof. S.S. Bainade delivered the lecture. He Said that one seed contains a power of tree. The same the one drop has also the power of ocean. In such a way one thought lead the inner power of education. Farmer works from beginning to ending.

Training helps to make the ideal personality. Training not only cultivates the mind and body but also cultivates brain. Aim should be fixed. Training helps to achieve our motto. Without hard work one can't attain anything in the life.

We must remember our history but unfortunately history is remembered only for the examination. Education is an instrument of social change.

The process of nurturing in human life is very important.
