Department of
Lifelong Learning and Extension

2010-2011. He further mentioned that his working was like a part of training. He also inspired after taking the award.

After this prof. S.S. Bainade delivered the lecture. He Said that one seed contains a power of tree. The same the one drop has also the power of ocean. In such a way one thought lead the inner power of education. Farmer works from beginning to ending.

Training helps to make the ideal personality. Training not only cultivates the mind and body but also cultivates brain. Aim should be fixed. Training helps to achieve our motto. Without hard work one can't attain anything in the life.

We must remember our history but unfortunately history is remembered only for the examination. Education is an instrument of social change.

The process of nurturing in human life is very important.

Prof. Sudhir Gavane was present as a chief guest of the function. In charge Head and Director of the department Dr. Sanjay Moon presided over the function.

Prin. Jabde delivered an inangural speech. He said that journalism is a very broad sector. All the world is wrapped by the journalism. Marathwada is a land of sants. Nature had given the draught to this reigon. After independence there was the change. The famous Jayakwadi dam was constructed after independence and made a great revolution in the Marathwada mostly water of this dam has been utilized for the drinking purpose and irrigation. Many students of our university are heading on the high ladders. While writing, we must think about all the facts, prejudicially writing is destructive writing so we should have to avoid such types of writing. Our motto should be the development.
